Dear Sir:

The Military Construction Act of 1955 (P.L. 101) authorized the construction of a headquarters installation for the Central Intelligence Agency. The site selected for this facility is on property now known as Bureau of Public Roads Research Center. It is located in Fairfax County, Virginia on the west bank of the Potomac River. The headquarters site is located at approximately latitude 38° 57.5' North, Longitude 77° 9' West, with an average elevation of 235 feet above low water datum.

This information is submitted with the request that we be advised if there are any limiting factors in the way of air navigation that would have an influence on the height of the building or upon the height of any radio antennae that may be erected on the site.

Sincerely,

Signed

L. E. White
Deputy Director
